SILAS SEANDEL CREATES THREE NEW TABLE DESIGNS FOR TODAY'S STYLE OF CONTEMPORARY LIVING

Silas Seandel, is known world wide for introducing traditional sculptural techniques into the field of furniture. He creates the finest custom designed pieces which are available through his gallery located in the heart of the new Chelsea art district. In this new environment, clients not only get the opportunity to view his collection of handmade tables, wall sculpture, mirrors, fountains, etc., but also get a glimpse of a real working sculpture studio, unique with indoor free parking for convenience.

The key to Seandel's furniture collection is flexibility. An evolving set of the artists own "classic" furniture designs are the template for variations. Each design can be modified according to the clients desires, needs and specifications. Silas never makes the same piece twice, but will vary the design in its shape, size and material used.

Shown are three new table designs that are indicative of the innovative approach that Silas has given to his sculptured furniture. Each is a result of unique inspiration that is interpreted for today's style of contemporary living, and clearly furniture for the 21st century.

Minoan Fertility Figures 4500 BC - a bronze and cast stone table that can be custom created to size and finish.

Duomo Table - cast bronze with an unusual pewter wash finish. The inset glass can be cut to any custom size. The finish can be customized as well.

Ortogo Table - A classic in cast bronze with glass, shown as a dining table. This design can be adapted as an end or occasional table.
